The Golden Wedding.

The first letters read were from abroad. One from the editor of the N. Y. Observer, another from the Secretary of the American Board F. M., Boston, one from Dr. Boyd, and a number from private friends and relations. Dr. Hyde then read a beautiful poem, by H. L. Sheldon, Esq., of Kohala. The Rev. Dr. Damon then presented a handsome gold watch—subscribed to by all the old missionaries and the ministers in the islands—in a neat and happy speech. Accompanying the watch was a letter of congratulations, signed by the subscribers. The Rev. A. O. Forbes read a most interesting letter from Rev. L. Lyons. Mrs. Adams then read a sweet and tender poem by Mrs. B. F. Dillingham.

Mr. F. W. Damon, an old scholar, in a humorous speech, presented a basket of gold pieces on behalf of the scholars. Dr. Hyde then offered prayer, which was followed by Miss Sarah King singing to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne" a song written specially for the occasion by Miss Chamberlain. A poem was also read by Miss Chamberlain, written by Mrs. Die, who was a fellow passenger with Dr. and Mrs. Lowell Smith.

Refreshments were then handed round and everybody had an opportunity of tasting the wedding cake, and the party dispersed, although visitors did not cease to come in till 9 p.m.

Over 500 invitations were issued, of which about 400 were sent to residents of Honolulu.

The flowers of which the wedding bell was composed were from the Golden Shower tree, and the roses in the alcove behind were cloth of gold. The arches round the room were made with branches of the date-palm.

The Memorial Service.

We give the following brief resume of Prof. Pratt's memorial address on Sunday evening:

I. Some persons appear at their best on first acquaintance, but of Charles Dillingham, it can be said, those who knew him best loved him best.

It was his own mother who said, "You don't know what a good boy Charlie is," and his nearest neighbor who could say, "I do not remember to have ever heard him speak uncharitably of anyone, or speak in an irritated tone to even one of his animals."

II. He was faithful as an officer of the Y.M.C.A., and in all the walks of life.

III. He did not desire wealth, but only Christian character.

From his life we can clearly see: 1st. That his last days were the result of early days, he reaped as he had sowed; 2nd. That right-living pays both here and in the world to come; 3rd. The power of a good life: what an influence it has, not only on ourselves but all around.

The attendance was large and sympathetic, and the whole audience felt the beauty and grace of the occasion.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The Consuelo was expected daily at San Francisco at last advices.

The Martha Davis left for Hongkong yesterday and H. B. M. S. Sappho for Coquimbo last night at 5 o'clock.

The Anna leaves with a full cargo and passenger list to-day for San Francisco at noon. Mail by her closes at 11 a. m.

The Martha Davies took 147 Chinese for Hongkong.

The Kilaua Hou took a heavy load of machinery last night.

The Ka Moi is loading up a second time with machinery for Lidgate's plantation, Laupahoehoe.

Oh stationery young man! Do you know "how to make love" yet?

Mrs. H. A. P. Carter gave a most enjoyable musical last night.

J. T. WATERHOUSE will open goods ex Glengaber to-day.

BUSINESS in the Bill line is brisk. End of the quarter you know.

SHARES of the Waimanalo Sugar Co. are in demand and have been sold lately at advanced prices.

PRINCESS Keelikolani passed an easy night and is much improved this morning.

WHAT Government Official is it that spells phatons "phatons"? eh? Where did he go to school?

MR. H. J. NOLTE keeps a band of music playing during lunch hours for the enjoyment of his customers.

FIVE sunspots are now visible, one of them being shaped like the comet and being about 1-16 the size of the sun.

MAJOR Wodehouse gave a farewell party to the Sappho's officers on Monday night. Lawn-tennis and dancing. Everybody enjoyed themselves.

Why can't we get up a Building Association here to build houses and let them at a moderate rental, so that the lessees can buy them on the instalment plan? There would be money in it we are sure.

We learn that Mr. T. Cummins sold his entire interest in the Waimanalo Sugar Co., and also certain lands at Waimanalo to his son J. A. Cummins on the 21st of last month.

It was wonderful to see the orderly way the expresses were arranged at the Fish Market Saturday afternoon by Carriage Inspector Wond. Private carriages will now be able to go to the Fish Market and the owners will be able to get what they want without any trouble.

A CERTAIN sodawater young man is liable to be stepped on if he doesn't come down off his high horse and not be so la-di-da to his customers. They really won't stand it.

An accident happened to the Punahou College bus as it was starting out Monday afternoon. The pole was broken but quickly mended and fresh horses being procured it soon started again. No one was hurt.

The Kohler Bros. gave a second entertainment last night. The solos were much appreciated. We advise all lovers of good music not to miss the treat of hearing Mr. Kohler, Senr. play on his varied collection of instruments. He is a band in himself. The electric boy and the phonograph are interesting to scientists.

ONE of the gentlemen who spoke at the American dinner has just received by mail per Australia, a letter from a gentleman residing in the United States, who is a large property holder in these Islands, in which he says: "I read your remarks at the dinner in honor of Gen. Comly, and I was pleased with them. It was an honest and sensible speech, and one which no true friend of the Islands could take offence at."

The following items, clipped from Frank Leslie's Illustrated of Sept. 16th, will perhaps interest our readers but they will wonder where the information came from: The Government of Hawaii is working energetically to secure increased immigration. The immigration of Portuguese Islanders, of Japanese and of American colored laborers will be encouraged. A small clique of American politicians at Honolulu has been causing some excitement by discussing the question of annexing the Sandwich Islands to the United States, and attempted to capture Mr. Daggett the new Minister from this country, but he wisely refused to encourage the movement.

To ILLUSTRATE the dependence placed on phrenology by some, we relate the following: A lady in this town had the heads of her two sons examined by a phrenologist. One of them was pronounced to have the development necessary for a machinist. The anxious mother determined to make him one as he grew older and in the meantime watched closely for indications of mechanical genius. The only incident that rewarded her scrutiny after some time was that the boy one day was apparently examining an old pump. The happy mother now thought surely he was of a mechanical turn—he was examining the pump to see how it worked. Some time after, relating the incident to a friend in the boy's presence, she remarked that she was now satisfied that he would be a machinist as he had examined this pump to see how it worked. Judge of her disappointment when the boy said: "No, mother, I was only trying to find a cockroach."
